GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 26.-With the exception o moderate firmness for a few minutes of the session the wheat market was bear ishly inclined all day and the weakness became pronounced in the final half-hour the gloss was the session of became pronounced in the final half-hour. The close was weak and only a triffe above the lowest point, with May at 1.06% and July at 96% 95%. Several leading commission houses were free sellers nearly all day and there was also active selling which was credited to northwestern interests. The chief reasons for the selling pressure were an almost entire absence of export demand, clearances of only 39,000 bushels of wheat, a considerable increase in primary receipts, and additional rains last night in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys. The early firmness was due mainly to the strength of European grain markets. The world's visible supply decreased 1,900,000 bushels the past week, compared with an increase of 1,942,000 bushels the corresponding week a year ago.

The feature of trade in the corn man The feature of trade in the corn market was the reported purchase of more than 1,000,000 bushels of the May delivery by a leading commission house which was said to have been short a long line of corn. The effect of this buying was the cause of decided strength in the market. The price of cash corn at the sample tables was up \( \frac{1}{2} \) to \( \frac{1}{2} \). The market closed firm, \( \frac{1}{2} \) \( \frac{1}{2} \) higher, with May at \( \frac{1}{2} \) \( \frac{1}{2} \) and July at \( \frac{1}{2} \). There was a good general trade in oats. The market exhibited considerable strength. Final quotations were unchanged to a shade higher, compared with the previous close, May closing at \( \frac{1}{2} \) and July at \( \frac{1}{2} \). Provisions were weakened by liberal

Provisions were weakened by liberal realizing sales, final quotations showing net declines of 2½ to 5 cents. Pork displayed the greatest weakness. A large part of the selling was credited to the grain firm that supported the corn market, although a Milwaukee packer was said to have sold freely of lard and ribs early in the day.
